HIGH SCHOOL ARTS AND CRAFTS TOLD TUESDAY CLUB

Misses Abel and Crandall, Also Charles J. Hall Present Instructive Subjects

At the regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club at Masonic Temple yesterday afternoon the members of that organization not only had the opportunity of learning what is being done in the arts and crafts section of the club and along this line in the high school but also had the privilege of hearing a very interesting talk on "Patriotism" by Charles J. Hall.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, who has been quite ill, Mrs. A. M. Williams, vice-president had charge of the meeting and introduced the curator of the arts and crafts section, Mrs. R. W. Meeker. Mrs. Meeker explained that this section had just recently been organized and that a great deal of the time had been spent in making holiday gifts.

At the present time, she stated, the section is engaged in the study of millinery. The making of luncheon favors, etc., will be taken up at the meeting of the section at the library tomorrow.

Introduces Instructors
In introducing Miss Jeannette Abel and Miss Crandall, teachers of the high school, Mrs. Meeker stated that she had secured them in order that the members of the club might know more about what the high school is doing in the way of arts and crafts.

Miss Abel explained the various courses in the department and showed many samples of work being done by the pupils. Freehand drawing, pen and ink work, charcoal, pastel, batik, tie dyeing, costume designing, and general design are among the things taken up in the various courses. Especially interesting to the members of the club were the samples of batik work and the dyeing of silks and the explanation of the process by Miss Abel.

Miss Crandall told of the newly formed class in costume designing. In designing the various costumes the students try to keep in mind the practicality of their design. She explained how the designs were worked out very much in detail and also with the idea of developing originality. The history of costume is also taken up and eventually the students design costumes for themselves.

Hall Highly Humorous

The humorous talk by Mr. Hall was much appreciated, especially the personal items of interest told by him regarding patriotism as he had observed it in various sections of the country while he was making a tour with the Chautauque circuit.

The following section meetings were announced: parliamentary law, Thursday at home of Mrs. W. H. Verity, 511 West Broadway; literary section, Monday, at home of Mrs. Downer, 219 1/2 Hawthorne street; music, Friday, at home of curator, Mrs. C. L. Marlenee, 301 South Central avenue; Shakespeare, at home of Mrs. Homer Lee, 2000 North Hollywood; arts and crafts, Thursday at library. Mrs. Williams announced the renovation of the "Midsummer Night's Dream" program to be given by Shakespeare section Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, and also announced that a "husbands' night" program is being arranged by the club for March 14 at the Pearl Keller auditorium.

Missionary Prayer Meeting for Tonight

A missionary prayer meeting will be observed tonight at the Presbyterian church, Rev. Murdoch MacKenzie of Toronto, who served in China for thirty years as missionary of the Canadian Presbyterian church and who is recognized as one of the world's leading missionaries, will be introduced by Rev. William Hunter, who was his fellow worker in the Orient for many years. Rev. MacKenzie recently was decorated by the Chinese government in recognition of his great contribution toward the upbuilding of China.

The service will be in charge of Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor of the church, who will give a brief talk on home missions in Alaska. Vocal music will be provided by Miss Josephine Retberg, 1239 East Harvard street, and Everett Anderson, 254 Sinclair street.

Mrs. E. T. Allen Has Informal Afternoon

The guests included Mrs. A. Clemens, Mrs. Charles Hurd, Mrs. A. Parks, Mrs. C. F. Parker and Mrs. A. Peterson. Light refreshments were served and the afternoon was spent in various contests and needlework.

ASK SAFETY DEVICE FOR P. E. CROSSING ON N. CENTRAL

Improved Lighting Along San Fernando Road Another Civic Suggestion

Showing an active interest in the improvement of many things in this city, the civic committee of the Chamber of Commerce submitted the following to the board of directors at their weekly luncheon yesterday afternoon:

"First—A recommendation to the city council that the Pacific Electric be requested to provide an adequate safety device for the Pacific Electric crossing at North Central avenue at an early date as possible. The train approach from both directions is upon a curve with the street crossing elevated, the view of the tracks from the north is wholly or partly obscured by trees and buildings to within a few feet of the track. Such conditions render this crossing very dangerous to both pedestrians and motorists.

"Second—A recommendation that the Chamber of Commerce endorse the plan of the San Fernando Boulevard Improvement association to secure an improved lighting system for San Fernando boulevard.

Other Activities
"The Civic committee will hold a meeting later in the week to complete plans for a 'Clean-Up Day' for Glendale and other matters referred to the committee for action.

"Upon the request of Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, the committee appointed as its representative T. D. Watson to meet with E. H. Botsford, president of the Foothills Improvement association, and the postmaster to make a survey of the postal needs of the Grand View and foothill districts.

The board concurred in the recommendations and thanked Dr. Jessie A. Russell, chairman, and L. H. Wilson, secretary, for bringing these matters before them. At the same time the matter of Community Service, Inc., which was presented by H. W. Arbury of Portland, Ore., was referred to the committee for recommendation.

Some Speed Is Shown By Edmund Ullrich, Newcomer to City

Edmund J. Ullrich comes from Tifton, O. And, surely, it must be a like town if it is made up of men like him. With his wife he arrived in "the fastest growing city in America" one week ago today.

"Some speed to this burg," said Mr. Ullrich, as he saw buildings going up on every side. I shall certainly have to start something. The first thing to do, however, was to find a house—which he did. Then he subleased the corner room in the Turner building from William H. Hooper & Co.

Mr. Ullrich already has arranged for the installation of a lunch counter equipment and he expects to open for business in another week or ten days, if possible. In the meantime he is making the acquaintance of everyone of the 2000 members of the Elks' club and 1000 members of the Chamber of Commerce, as that was the first organization he joined on arriving here.

Washington Party by J. O. C. of Pacific M. E.

The members of the J. O. C. class of the Pacific avenue Methodist church entertained their husbands and friends at a George Washington party last night in the social hall of the church. The hall was decorated with hatched and red, white and blue streamers, and in the center was a cherry tree, constructed from a branch of a tree to which were tied evergreen boughs. One of the games of the evening, which created a great deal of merriment was that of trying to cut the cherries from the tree while blindfolded. Other games and contests were also enjoyed. At the close of the evening refreshments of ice cream, coffee and cake were served. The committee in charge of the party included Miss Sarah Hommer, president of the class, and Mrs. Fay Fisher.

Mrs. Ida M. Terry Honored by Daughter

Mrs. Charlotte K. Aston of 207 North Orange street was hostess at a beautifully appointed surprise luncheon given Monday in honor of her mother, Mrs. Ida M. Terry, of 205 North Orange street. The guests, who were all old time friends from Los Angeles, included Mrs. E. Whitaker, Miss Anna Whitaker, Mrs. Lewis Whitaker, Mrs. L. W. Skelton, Mrs. Wickey, Mrs. H. Lange, Mrs. F. L. Hanna and Mrs. Alma M. Pennington.

VISITOR FROM NEBRASKA

Franz Nelson, formerly of Omaha, Nebraska, but now a resident of Long Beach, called at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday to approve Glendale as a pleasant place to live.

CITY SCHOOLS FACE PROBLEM OF MAKING $260,000 MEET NEEDS

HOW far will the $260,000 recently voted by the taxpayers of Glendale really go toward alleviating crowded conditions in the local school system?

This was the question which was discussed with some anxiety last night at the Intermediate school by members of the grammar school board of trustees and members of the Citizens' Committee of Nineteen.

The fact that actual building costs will run considerably higher than estimates furnished by the committee was brought out by Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, who asked for advice in the matter.

After some discussion, it was decided that the funds available should be spent as far as it would go at the discretion of the school board wherever the need for additional facilities seemed most pressing.

Need for a supplemental survey of the school situation this September and the possibility of another bond election were mentioned.

CAPPER TO LEAD FARM 'BLOC' AGAINST SHIP SUBSIDY
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Organized opposition to the ship subsidy was planned today by Senator Capper, republican, of Kansas, and other western members of the senate "agriculture bloc." Capper, who is slated to succeed Senator Kenyon, republican, of Iowa, as chairman of the "bloc" upon the latter's retirement Friday to become a federal judge, declared that he is "unalterably opposed" to the plan for a government subsidy or guarantee of the American merchant marine which President Harding is expected to submit to congress either Saturday or Monday.

Fields, confessed "doper" and convicted forger, today made a statement in which he told Chief Edward H. Fox his detailed movements the week of the crime. He named members of a dope ring. Fields was arrested for the Detroit police in Buffalo, N. Y., on February 6, and returned here for trial on a forged charge. He was convicted and remanded to the county jail for sentence.

CONTROL PILOT OF ROMA BLAMES FAULTY MECHANISM

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 22.—Lieutenant Byron Burt, control pilot on the ill-fated Roma, and the only active flight control officer to survive the disaster, today blamed the crash on the failure of control instruments to operate. He told the International News Service that the ship refused to respond to the elevating controls while 600 feet in the air and dove head first into the ground at an angle of 45 degrees. "I owe my life to the fact that I fell in this ditch, which sheltered me from the explosion. The ship was blazing all over me as I crawled on my face along the ditch out from under the wreckage. I think that the first blast of flame killed every man caught between the envelope or in the cabins. It was terrible."

LODGE TO SEE HARDING AND SETTLE PACIFIC PACT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The Brandegee and other reservations proposed to the four-power Pacific treaty by republican "irreconcilables" and democratic senators constituting a majority of the senate foreign relations committee will be the subject of a conference between President Harding and Senator Lodge, republican, of Massachusetts, the committee chairman, before any of them are finally acted upon. In making this announcement today after the Pacific pact was again discussed by the committee without any agreement being reached regarding it, Senator Lodge said he expected to see the president about the proposed reservations "within the next twenty-four hours."

ROMA CREW KILLED WITHOUT CHANCE TO ESCAPE

Searching Investigation to Be Instituted by Government in Great Air Tragedy

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 22.—A searching investigation into the Roma disaster which cost nearly two score lives, will be inaugurated immediately, officials said today.

The Roma investigation probably will go far deeper than the mere assortment of the causes of the fatal crash. Appalled by the series of accidents to aircraft recently, particularly that lighter-than-air type of the Roma, officers of the army and navy air services said today the probe would go into the fundamentals of lighter-than-air construction.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
Written for International News Service
ARMY SUPPLY BASE, HAMPTON ROADS, Va., Feb. 22.—A charred skeleton of twisted metal, splashed with bits of frayed bunting, today marked the spot where 34 American army birdmen died in the crash of the semi-rigid dirigible Roma, once the pride of the Italian air forces.

While three concurrent investigations were being rushed by army officials, fellow aviators honored their dead as crusaders of the sky, who suddenly were overtaken by a fickle fate.

Survivors Tell Story
There are eleven survivors of the crash and the terrific fire that made a funeral pyre of the trapped airmen. Those of the survivors able to talk today blamed the catastrophe on broken elevating controls and a Liberty motor that "went dead." The Roma was making its first test flight after Liberty motors had replaced the original Italian engines.

Out of the maze of counter-stories, it was apparent today that the crew and passengers of the Roma for the most part "never had a chance to escape." Trapped beneath the falling envelope of the bag, they were blasted into blackened, shriveled corpses.

COSTS OF SCHOOL BUILDING GIVEN

Figures Exceed Estimates and Superintendent White to Make New Survey

Figures showing the cost of construction of the new Grandview school and the Acacia avenue addition were submitted last night by the city board of education to the citizens' committee. The estimated cost of the Acacia unit was $16,000. Contracts awarded call for the expenditure of $23,972.50. The general contract is being given to J. B. Harris of Los Angeles for $21,721. Plumbing will be installed by Coker & Taylor, 205 North Brand boulevard. Electric wiring will be done by the Jewel Electric company, 200 East Broadway. The J. A. Newton Electric company, 154 South Brand boulevard, will furnish the electric fixtures for $200. The heating contract has not been awarded.

Grandview school contracts are being let on the segregated basis. The total cost of construction is estimated at $31,504.48 which is almost twice as much as the estimated cost of $16,000. Two-thirds of the work on this building will be done by local firms. Among the Glendale business houses whose bids were accepted are the following: May & Heilman, 205 East Broadway, $18,500 as contractor; Wilson-Bell Hardware company, 225 North Brand boulevard; $738 for hardware; Glendale Mill, 216 Howard street, $160 for window screens; Glendale Electric company, 132 North Brand boulevard, $575 for electric wiring; Coker & Taylor, 209 South Brand boulevard, $3080 for plumbing.

The consensus of opinion of the meeting was that, as these buildings are quite necessary work should proceed now at once.

Supt. Richardson D. White was requested to appoint a committee of five to go into the situation thoroughly and make recommendations to the larger committee. Members of this committee have not been appointed yet.

On account of illness, Dr. P. O. Lucas, 358 Riverside drive, was unable to be present at last night's meeting. Other members of the board of trustees, however, were all present. They are: J. D. Moore, 222 West Elk street; Capt. W. C. Wattles, 1213 South Glendale avenue; F. C. Wilkinson, 1140 Stanley avenue; Mrs. Gladys Esselman, 1106 South Glendale avenue; Mrs. E. S. In order that more Spanish-American War veterans might have the opportunity to join this organization as charter members, it was decided to hold the charter open for a short time longer.

Plans were discussed for the cooperation of this post with the local post of the American Legion.

Babies Wear Bibs at Rotarians' Gathering In Long Beach Today

Babies wear bibs! George Karr says so.

Therefore the Glendale Rotarians, who are attending the all-day intercity meeting at Long Beach today, went equipped with the napkins like what mother used to make when you and I were young.

Glendale's club is the baby of the bunch and from the turnout this morning with pennants, banners and bibs, there is no question but what the husky youngster has a long, active and useful life ahead.

After a glorious day away the members of the club who are not on the sick list will lunch together tomorrow at the Chamber of Commerce banquet hall.

WHAT 'COMMUNITY SERVICE' MEANS, REVEALED

H. W. Arbury Tells Directors of Commerce Chamber Plan for Bettering City

With a view of setting forth the advantages of a community-wide recreation program for the city of Glendale, H. W. Arbury, field representative of Community Service, Inc., with headquarters at New York City, addressed the members of the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at the regular Tuesday luncheon. Mr. Arbury said, in part:

"The things we do when we do what we please, are vitally related not only to health, but also to morality and the whole development of the finer self. It required only a small fraction of the people to immortalize Greece—about one-fifth—the remaining four-fifths being slaves—what marvels may not be done by us moderns now that all of us have a little time each day to devote to our real selves.

Keeps People Active

"The need for constructive use of leisure was never so great in America as it is today. Community Service, Inc., with the background of the fifteen years' experience of the Playground and Recreation Association of America is functioning to the extent of its resources to provide the machinery through which local communities may receive the benefit of the best experience in the field of leisure-time.

"There is such a thing as genuine altruism in America," said Mr. Arbury, "and because of this fact it is possible for Glendale to take advantage of the opportunity extended at this time to set up a program of leisure-time activities which shall touch and enrich the lives of all the people of this community."

Outlines Plan for City

The plan as outlined by Mr. Arbury contemplates the organization of a temporary Community Service committee of from five to ten representative citizens of Glendale who shall extend to Community Service, Inc., a formal invitation for assistance in forming a permanent committee. Upon the acceptance of the invitation by the national headquarters, an organizer will be assigned to Glendale for a period of three months, who will work with the local committee in developing a year round program and assist in raising funds to carry on the work for one year from the close of the demonstration period.

Assignment of special workers in community music, community drama and pageantry, athletics and all forms of social recreation, who will conduct schools and institutes for the training of local leaders constitute a part of the demonstration activities. This demonstration is carried on at the expense of the national organization. No part of the funds raised for the local work is at any time diverted to the national organization. When the permanent local organization is complete it becomes autonomous, receiving its support from local people who are interested in making Glendale the best possible place in which to live.

Mr. Arbury will be here for ten days and have headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce in order that organizations wishing to learn more of community service may get in touch with him.

James F. McBryde Is Master Mason Now

The meeting of Unity Lodge, No. 268, of Glendale, at Masonic Temple last night, marked an auspicious moment in the career of that organization. At that time James F. McBryde was the candidate on whom was conferred the degree of Master Mason by Dwight W. Stephenson, worshipful master of the lodge, and other regular officers, and upon signing the by-laws became member No. 363, corresponding with the number of the local Masonic lodge. After the business session the members adjourned to the banquet room where the past masters present gave short talks, telling of the important events which had taken place during their years of office. This was followed by a musical program including several vocal solos by Keaumoku Lewis and short stories and a monologue by Dan Bruce. After the program a light lunch was served.

C. OF C. SECRETARIES LEAVE FOR STATE CONVENTION

E. F. Sanders Wins Leave by Getting 20 Members in Past Week

E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, who has charge of membership, wanted to accompany Secretary James M. Rhoades to the State Commercial Secretaries' convention at El Centro this week.

Now they are both leaving tonight and here is how it came about: Mr. Rhoades, so he said, promised Mr. Sanders that if two weeks' work was done in one, i. e., 20 new members were secured for presentation at the meeting of the directors yesterday, he would ask that the leave be granted.

With the aid of the Ten o'Clock club, Mr. Sanders just made the rifle, so to speak, and the directors heartily endorsed his attendance at the convention, inasmuch as Mr. Rhoades will be limited in his activity by a punctured right foot.

More New Members

Among the new members reported by the Ten o'Clock club who were not mentioned in yesterday's list were Mary Wagner of the Golden State Meat market, 436 East Colorado street; John Gardner of 231 Milford street and Edmund J. Ulrich of 222 East Broadway.

The directors also voted $25 to the advertising committee for a contest to obtain some good local views and several suggestions along this line were made to L. H. Wilson, chairman of the publicity committee, who was present.

Director Jesse E. Smith stated that George Melford, the well-known Lasky-Famous Players film director, had taken a panorama picture of Glendale in 1911 from Mt. Verdugo, which showed the few business buildings and several ranches here in the valley. At that time he was "shooting" pictures for the famous old Kalem company which made some of the most virile westerns ever played.

Pictures to Tell Story

Secretary Rhoades was requested to write Mr. Melford and ascertain if it would be possible for him to assign a cameraman to the same vantage point and get a view of Glendale as it is today—10 years later and known as "the fastest growing city in America."

It is believed that this picture will tell the story in a more emphatic manner than all of the words which can be written upon the subject.

The following requests for transfer of light and water service are on file in the public service department at the city hall:

Mrs. Rathbun Reports on Mile of Pennies

Mrs. C. W. Houston of 440 West Myrtle street and Mrs. W. N. Rathbun of Pioneer Drive attended the council meeting of the D. A. R. of the southern chapters of California at a Los Angeles hotel yesterday, which was followed by a luncheon. Mrs. Rathbun, who is chairman of conservation and thrift, gave a report of the completion of the mile of pennies by the Glendale chapter for the Maternity Hospital in Los Angeles.

At yesterday's meeting a program was outlined for a conference which will take place in Los Angeles March 6 to 12. This will be attended by the president general of the National Society of the D. A. R. of the United States, Mrs. Minor of Connecticut, and also by the treasurer general, Mrs. Lillian Hunter, and several state officers. This will be the first visit of the president general to the Pacific coast and many social events are being planned in her honor.

HERBERT HAS NO 'YELL'

Ira J. Herbert of 618 East Chestnut street today is hoping that it won't be necessary for him to yell "fire" the next night or two in connection with his duties as manager of the Glendale Patrol and Fire Dispatch. Yesterday he had his tonsils removed at the White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles where his niece is a graduate nurse.

Optimism must be based on effect.

An object lesson of practising Economy and Thrift to achieve Independence can be learned by studying the methods that George Washington employed.

Don't Let That Cold Drag!

A late winter or spring cold frequently is one of the hardest to drive off. Often such a cold, unless taken care of properly, will develop into serious complications.

When the first symptoms of a cold greet you, get a box of R. & E. Cold and Grippe Tablets. If taken at the start they have a good chance of breaking it up.

And if you give us a prescription, we will fill it accurately, with care and utmost intelligence.

Important Changes in Revenue Act Related

The Revenue Act of 1921, while largely a re-enactment of the Revenue Act of 1918, contains many substantial changes. In addition to these substantial changes, it is unsafe to assume that any part of the 1918 law has been left unchanged.
Practically no section of the old law remains as it formerly stood. The most important changes made by the Revenue Act of 1921 are as follows:

The rates: Normal tax rates remain the same, but the surtax rates for 1922 and succeeding years afford considerable relief. The maximum surtax rate for these years is 50 per cent and a certain measure of relief on small incomes is also afforded by the lower surtax rates. For 1922 and succeeding years the income tax on corporations is increased from 10 per cent to 12½ per cent, but the excess-profit tax is repealed.

Substantial changes are made by the new law in regard to exchanges of property, including reorganization and transfers of property to corporations for stock. Property received on an exchange is no longer treated as the equivalent of cash unless it has a readily realizable market value. A taxpayer turning over property to a corporation for all its stock is no longer subject to any tax on the transaction.

The net loss provision of the 1918 law is extended and taxpayers are now allowed to offset net losses of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1920, against income of the preceding year, or if the income of the preceding year is not sufficient the balance of any loss may be carried over and deducted from income of the succeeding taxable year.

Substantial relief is afforded by the provision of the 1921 law limiting the tax on profits from the sale of capital assets to a maximum of 12½ per cent. However, this particular section does not go into effect until January 1, 1922, and will,therefore, not be a factor for the taxable year 1921.

An entirely new scheme of taxation is provided for insurance companies.

The special class of corporations known as personal service corporations is abolished after December 31, 1921.

The deduction for depletion in the case of natural resources when based on the discovery value is limited by the new law to the net income of the property upon which the discovery is made and may not be set off against the taxpayer's income from other sources.

The revenue act of 1921 guards against fictitious losses frequently submitted by taxpayers selling securities before the end of a taxable year and repurchasing them in the succeeding year.

The new law permits the taxation as a corporation of certain trades or businesses operated by individuals and partnerships in the event of incorporation within four months from the passage of the act (November 23, 1921).

Filing of consolidated returns by affiliated corporations is made optional for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1921.

An entirely new provision of the 1921 law limits the taxable income in citizens and domestic corporations deriving their chief income from possessions of the United States to income from sources within the United States.

Lodge of Rebekahs of Glendale.

EDUCATION CANNOT CHANGE NATURE, SAYS PASTOR

Only Through Grace of God Can Alteration Come, Is
Rev. Preston's Claim

"Put a pig in a parlor; train him to eat from a plate; keep him there for years; turn your back—and you will find him eating out of a trough," asserted Rev. Harley G. Preston Sunday morning at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church.

"A beautiful Indian maiden went east; became highly civilized and married a white man. They had two children. Everything went along beautifully for a time. Then the husband noticed a far away look in her eyes. One day she suddenly disappeared. After some months, she was finally found back in her old haunts. She had married a dirty chief and was living in filth. And still she was highly educated."

"I would not underestimate the importance of education, but moral nature cannot be changed in any way except through the grace of God.

Here's One Theory

"One time a specialist claimed that under pressure brought to bear by a bone pressing certain portions of the brain, men were caused to commit crime. According to this principle, if only the bone pressure were lifted, a liar would tell the truth, gossiping women would hold their tongues and men of profane lips would quit their profanity. All right, let's try it out."

"According to this theory, he should come from under the ether, a reformed man—but he doesn't. He comes out of it the same old liar, gossiper as before. The pressure is not from a bone on the brain but from sin in the heart."

"Another thing: the person in the gutter cannot be saved by perfumery, nor by piety, or cologne and rosewater religion."

"A certain girl was a natural thief. Finally she made a desperate effort through sheer will power and conquered herself. Later she married a wealthy man. Years afterwards a valuable piece of jewelry was missed in a large department store. Finally suspicion rested upon her. Detectives followed her home and found the missing article in her house, which was a mansion. You see the old natural tendency was in control. Will power is all right and we have got to use it, but only God Almighty can change character."

Secret of It All

"There are men down and out, who might have been bishops and leaders in Christian work. And there are silly, frivolous girls walking the streets of our large towns and cities in anything but modest apparel whom God intended for Frances Willards and Florence Crit-tendens. There are people, who have left the good old orthodox faith of their fathers, and are now lost in the fogs and bogs of what they now think they believe, but there is no feeling of security about it."

"I have heard scores of men stand on their feet and testify to the wonderful saving and transforming power of the grace of God and the gospel of Jesus Christ who at the time of their conversion were drunken, ragged, dirty and unkempt without an ounce of ambition. And now they are back to their families, highly respected and useful citizens.
You ask them what was the secret and they tell you they met Jesus Christ and He did the work."

"We might think of humanity as the clay and God as the divine potter."

Realty Offices AreLuxuriously Fitted

Many compliments are being given Charles F. Hahn and Robert McKenzie for the appearance of their realty office at 137 South Brand boulevard which Saturday night had its formal opening. On this occasion many floral offerings were sent by their friends and business associates. The affair was attended by a large number of Glendale residents. Music was furnished by A. M. Kelly's Shrine Club orchestra. Favors were distributed to all the guests.

One of the features of the establishment is a small, but luxuriously fitted reception room which is tastefully furnished. To the right of this aisle at the south side of the building are the private offices. These are enclosed in paneled wood finished in light olive color.

Quarters are provided in the front of the establishment for a complete stenographic department. This will be at the disposal of the public at all times.

In order that out-of-town clients may be given some idea of the concern with which they are dealing, flashlight photographs of the interior of this establishment have been made by Glenn R. Dolberg.

Another feature of this office is its window display which, it is stated, demonstrates worthy artistic thought. Here passersby will find a clock which will inform them—by glancing at the well-lettered placards ranged below it—that now is the time to buy Glendale real estate.

Both Mr. Hahn of 518 South Central avenue and Mr. McKenzie of 1011 North Brand boulevard have had ten years' experience in the real estate business.

"We are in a position to give our clients service in every branch of the business," said Mr. Hahn. "We will represent both buyer and seller in the handling of homes, vacant and business property, ranches, industrial sites and income property. Our auction department will conduct sales weekly. We will protect your interests by insurance and act as rental agents."

Big 'Saturday Night'
Crowds Pack T. D. L.

For the first time in the history of Glendale "Saturday Night" on Tuesday and will remain over again today (Wednesday) and tomorrow (Thursday).

Of course one should be more explicit and say the picture "Saturday Night," Cecil B. De Mille's amazing production, which opened at the T. D. L. theatre. Great crowds flocked to the playhouse in anticipation of witnessing one of the greatest performances ever flashed upon a screen—and came away with just that feeling that brought them to see the picture.

It is a truly great show and any of the 2000 people who saw it yesterday will say so, too.

Ralph Allan has done a lot of advertising proclaiming his attraction and advising everyone to come and see it. His house has a tremendous show with the numerous added attractions, also. One gets the very best and plenty of it at the same regular prices of admission.

The jazz saxophone quartet is also making a great hit.

New Barber Shop IsUnsurpassed in Class

The formal opening of Perry F. Rentrow's new barber shop at 119 West Broadway will take place tomorrow. Light and ventilation are two of the principal features while extreme neatness and general attractiveness are conspicuous.

At the sidewalk is an inviting exterior lobby. On the east side of this will be an especially constructed bootblack stand and on the west side is located the cigar counter which is finished in French gray. The floor of the lobby, like that of the shop itself, is tile. Large plate-glass windows and a center door provide the front.

"What I have always wanted in a barber shop is lots of room and lots of light," says Mr. Rentrow.

The color scheme of the interior is white in order to retain as much light as possible and to provide a cheerful atmosphere. On either side of the room are French mirrors about four feet wide and placed about four feet from the floor. These extend the length of the shop. The four barber chairs are placed along the west side of the shop. Behind them is the usual barber's shelf containing all the implements of the trade.

The east side of the room is occupied with luxurious leather upholstered settees. The handsome wood panels, enameled in white, at the end of the room are divided by a door into a rear room.

Associated with P. E. Rentrow in the shop will be his son, E. E. Polster, Edward Baugh of 408 East Elk street and C. C. Baker of 115 South Brand boulevard.

The brick building, which has been several months in construction, is valued at $15,000. About the first of March Mr. and Mrs. Rentrow expect to move from their present address at 442 West Harvard street to a modern four room apartment which is now being completed for them over the barber shop. This contains all the latest features of bungalow architecture. A three room apartment in the rear of the second floor will be rented.

Nine years ago the Rentrow family moved to Glendale from Red Bluff, California and Mr. Rentrow opened the shop which he has just vacated at 109 1/2 South Brand boulevard. All of this time he has visualized the shop which has just been completed. While he admits that some shops in various parts of the United States may equal it, he is quite sure none surpass it.

W. G. Shaw, Pioneer of Glendale, Returns

W. G. Shaw, who has just returned from Colorado Springs, after several years spent in that city, is one of the pioneer settlers of Glendale. It is interesting to note that he built his home at 806 East Windsor road in 1883, buying fifteen acres of land, extending from Windsor across Acacia south for $80.00 per acre, five acres of which was recently sold by H. B. Reed company for $15,000. Mr. Shaw was superintendent of the first Sunday school in Glendale, which was called the Union Sunday school, situated on South Glendale avenue. This was later changed to the Presbyterian Sunday school. He was also superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school in Los Angeles for fifteen years. Mr. Shaw has returned to Glendale to reside and has his real estate office at 113 East Broadway.

Guests at Oratorio

Mrs. F. A. Webb, Mrs. Helen Sawyer and Dr. S. Webb of Glendale were invited guests at the Philharmonic concert in Los Angeles Sunday afternoon, where the oratorio called "Music, an Ode," the words of which were written by Van Dyke and music by Henry Hadley, was given. Paul Altohouse, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera company, was soloist. John Smallman, conductor of the Los Angeles oratorio society, gave a reception at his home for the artists of the afternoon and his musical friends, where it was a pleasure for the guests to meet them. Refreshments were served and a delightful hour enjoyed.

Hiking Enjoyed by
Two Glendale Women

Mrs. Mary H. Carpenter, Miss Alice Carpenter of 205 Hawthorne street, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hony of Los Angeles, spent the week-end at Switzer's Camp. They found the camp quite well patronized in spite of the bad weather. The trails were in good condition, and they hiked eighteen miles altogether, going and coming, without much fatigue. The guests at the camp entertained themselves with a valentine party Saturday night, an impromptu affair, greatly enjoyed by all.

THAT'S ALLAnother Air Catastrophe
How Close to Home!
An Ounce of Precaution
World Becoming Better

By Gil A. Cowan

GAIN the world is shocked by A news of the Roma, the giant Italian dirigible which was purchased recently by the United States, exploding over Hampton Roads, Va., and killing most of its crew.

Four of the biggest airships in the world have suffered disasters or accidents in the last few months.

The ZR-2 of the United States broke in two and burned at Hull, England, while on test flight.

The British R-34, which successfully flew the Atlantic, rammed her nose into a hill during one of her flights, but made her way "into port" unassisted, and without casualties.

The first British air liner, fitted with Pullman accommodations for passengers, was damaged seriously while tying up to a landing tower, being out of commission for several weeks.

How close to home this accident seems. Four years ago this month was stationed in the vicinity where yesterday's catastrophe occurred with an army air squadron.

And how well can I remember the cheerful pilots and crews who manned the aircraft overhead with Langley field as their base. Hardly a day passed but what some of the big winged crafts or gigantic gas bags flew aloft, preparing for overseas service.

Intrepid navigators of the air, everyone who sacrificed his life yesterday in the fatal test flight is just as much a hero as those who died over the battle front.

It is said that helium gas, which is non-inflammable, has been discovered, and soon all of the lighter than air machines will be filled with this lifting power.

According to the stories of eye witnesses, the elevator broke loose and one of the cables dragged across a power line. May it be the last accident of the kind.

What wonderful pulling power advertisements in The Glendale Evening News carry. The results from the "Saturday Night" page containing misspelled words were indeed gratifying.

Certainly it showed that this paper is read, but the large classified advertising patronage bespeaks that fact daily. And on these rainy days when the carrier boys struggle through mud to get the papers "home," it was pleasing to hear from subscribers who think so much of The Glendale Evening News that they cannot "miss" a copy.

Other evidence of appreciation is the large number of checks for five dollars—a year's subscription in advance—being received daily by the circulation department. Many newcomers are being added to the list daily.

Such sound, steady growth and confidence of the community is a greater dividend, a greater credit than can be told in figures or forced statements.

Prevailing sickness makes a word of caution advisable and quoting from the peerless American publisher, Ben Franklin, let it be said that "an ounce of precaution is worth a pound of cure."

If you have a hard cold, fever, cough or inclination toward illness at this season, it is advisable that something be done. Do not neglect the little things which will weaken the system and provide a nucleus for physical break-down.

A day away from work, a good night's rest with plenty of fresh air—oh, a hundred little things may be done now that will save hours or days or even weeks of pain and misery.

"Don't be worried" is the best advice, but have sense enough to take care of yourself or others will have to do so for you.

Tribute to medical science was paid by Carl J. Butch, a visitor here who has come from northern China where the missionary hospitals are filled to overflowing, by a patient, grateful people appreciative of what the enlightened physicians and surgeons are doing.

In the Orient a comparative conception of civilization must make a tremendous impression on a person from America where so many new things are accepted as a matter of course.

If you are further interested in the idea of the speed with which science and invention is progressing in this great nation of ours, read George Ade's article in the current issue of the American magazine on the "Eighteen Year Old Rouses and Seventeen Year Old Vamps."

Aside from its humor, there is a deeper motive that will appeal to readers of all ages and all classes. And the moral—which Mr. Ade failed to mention—is the fact that the old world actually is getting better if one's vision is broad enough to see the good in things.

There are in this tract only twenty-four lots, 46x177, and will sell for $1250 to $1500 each. Here is your chance to buy a good big lot in a subdivision near the business section, at a very low cost. Lot (3) three facing Windsor road has a (7) seven room house with beautiful trees for $3000. This tract faces two of our choicest residential streets; 5 per cent discount for cash. J. J. DEAKIN, 924 East Windsor Rd., Glendale 1556-J.—Adv.

ZELLERBACH PAPER CO. SQUAD BOWLED OVER BY NEWS

Fortunate of Capt. Pennock's Crew Rolls High Score; Return Match Soon

By HOWARD M'GILLIS
Sporting Editor The Evening News
The newly-organized Evening News bowling team, led by Captain H. C. Pennock, very fittingly ushered in their new season last night by trimming the Zellerbach Paper Company squad of Los Angeles in three straight games. The match, which attracted a large crowd of rooters for both sides was played on the California Alleys, Los Angeles, which are the home alleys of the Zellerbachs.

The final scores of each game were as follows:
First—Zellerbachs, 712; Evening News, 812; second—Zellerbachs, 800; Evening News, 827; third—Zellerbachs, 729; Evening News, 818. The second contest was the most spectacular one of the three, the seventh frame of which found the locals 49 pins behind their rivals. Every man on the team immediately "got busy" and through the special efforts of Joe Fortunato, who wound up the game with a clean "turkey," nosed out the paper dealers by a margin of 27 pins.

Fortunato Rolls High
High honors for the evening went to Fortunato, who rolled a total of 516 pins for the three games. He was closely followed by Gilhuly, who cinched the runner-up position with a mark of 512. Third place was taken by Ostling, leadoff man for the Zellerbachs, with the impressive score of 501. Pennock, Ward and Caswell, all of The Evening News squad, trailed along in the order named.

The two teams will meet in a return match on the local Elks' alleys in two weeks.

Last night's scores:

Today We Honor Washington

TRIBUTE is the reward of greatness. To the memory of George Washington—"first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen"—we pay due homage.

From his life we gain a most valuable lesson. He gave up comforts, security and much of his wealth for principle—principle of independence we all now enjoy—the principle which has established the world's best example of government.

SPORTS CHATTER By BILL UNMACK PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

With the Universities of Washington and California busy preparing for the Pacific coast intercollegiate eight-oared championship, some one has requested the information as to when intercollegiate rowing first started on the Pacific coast.

College rowing on the coast only dates back to 1901 when the University of Washington was the first coast college to organize a crew. In that year a "four" was boated, but it was not until the next year that California organized a crew and on June 11, 1903, at Lake Washington, Seattle, Wash., these crews rowed the original collegiate race on the coast. The race was over a mile and a half course in heavy barges, the Washingtonians winning in 9 minutes 33 seconds. The crews in that now historic race were: Washington, Kari Van Kuran, captain and bow; Daniel Pullen, No. 2; Clinton Lantz, No. 3; Fred McElmon, stroke. California men were: Grindley, captain; Fred McElmon, stroke. California men were: Grindley, captain and bow; Smith, No. 2; Dandy, No. 3; Horley, stroke.

Four-oared races were rowed until 1905, and it was this year that barges were discarded and racing shells adopted. Two races were rowed in 1905, one at Seattle won by California and another at Oakland estuary when Stanford beat Washington. The San Francisco earthquake of 1906 resulted in the cancellation of the race that year, but in 1907 the crews of the three colleges came together in the first eight-oared race. The race was rowed at Richardson's Bay, San Francisco, and all three shells sunk in the heavy seas. A postponement until the Monday following was ordered but Washington was unable to stay over and Stanford beat California over two and a half miles by seven lengths in 13:05. Stanford a few weeks later went north and lost to Washington by fifteen lengths on the Lake Washington course at Seattle.

Since the sport was first inaugurated Washington has won ten races. Stanford seven and California only four. This includes, some years, two sets of races, one at San Francisco and a return engagement at Seattle, Wash., and it also includes all victories in either fours or eights.

For years California could not win, though the boys from the Berkeley college on several occasions came within a few feet of victory. California won two four-oared events, one in 1904 and the second one in 1905. In 1908 California won its first eight-oared victory, this over Stanford and two and a half mile course, but the same year was defeated at Washington by the Washingtonians. From 1908 until 1921, the California never won a race and after its five-foot victory over Washington last year the California crew went east and rowed into second place behind Annapolis in the Poughkeepsie regatta.

Now with Stanford minus a crew, the California and Washington men are training to continue the struggles on the water that started nineteen years ago. It is definitely settled that the winner will go back to Poughkeepsie to represent the Pacific coast in the annual eight-oared classic of the United States this summer.

Glendale Quintet at Franklin High Today

Coach Normal C. Hayhurst and his two squads of Glendale high school basketball artists will endeavor to appropriately celebrate Washington's birthday this afternoon when they will attempt to take a brace of games from Franklin high's casaba tossers. At 3:30 o'clock the 110 pounders will tangle in a preliminary contest, following which the lightweights (130 pounds) will meet in what will probably prove to be the championship game of the Central league midget division.

Both of the teams in the latter class have gone through the season without a defeat, a win for either squad this afternoon practically clinching the flag. The games will be staged in the local gymnasium.

GIRLS' INTERCLASS CASABA MEET ON

Seniors Win From Sophomore Quintet; Final Games to Be Played Tomorrow

The interclass basket-ball schedule, which is now in full swing at the high school, is becoming intensely exciting to the members of the Girls' Athletic association, of which Dorothy Cotton is president.

The Senior-Sophomore game was played Tuesday with a resultant score of 16 to 4 for the former, and a definite victory for the Senior second team also, although the score could not be learned. Girls of the Senior first team, of which Lucile Nelson is captain, are forwards, Lulu Drake, Lucy Strother; centers, Allie Black, Ethel Burke; guards, Lucille Nelson, Dorothy Cotton.

Sophomore first team: Gladys Hollingsworth, captain; forwards, Gladys Hollingsworth, Nadine King; centers, Ruth Hudson, Erna May Snow; guards, Winifred Spindler, Anna May Munroe.

Senior second team: Maurine Bettis, captain; forwards, Maurine Bettis, Mida Butler; centers, Dorothy Cotton, Vera Hayden; guards, Louise White, Lucile Nelson.

The Sophomore-Freshman game was played last week, the Sophomore second team winning one game and Freshman first team, winning the other.

In the Senior-Junior game both first and second Senior teams won first honors.

The Sophomore-Junior game will be played today (Wednesday), and the Freshman-Senior game Thursday. This will be the final game, in the interclass schedule for the season.

ADDITIONAL UNITS ARE SECURED FOR WIRELESS PLANT

Charles Lang of Tujunga is Able to Extend System; to Build Big Factory

Charles Lang of Tujunga has been presented by his father, Leo Lang, with several additional units to his wireless telephone apparatus, and he can now listen in on a wide radius. The other night Charles called his father out of bed to hear a conversation between the captain of a leaking ship out in the Pacific ocean and the operator at Catalina Island and Mr. Lang says every word was clearly defined. Another well-equipped radio-phon in Tujunga is the property of Lorin Scoville, son of the cashier of the Tujunga Valley bank.

To Build Aluminum Factory

W. E. Duersten, vice president of the American Aluminum Metal Products company at Burbank, who has returned from a trip to New York and other eastern cities, makes the announcement that the McCrea Construction company of Los Angeles, has been awarded the contract for the new factory and that work will be vigorously prosecuted until the building is completed, which is expected to do within a period of four months.

Gifts Sold Throughout the U. S.

Tujunga Gift Crafters announce they have closed contracts with their salesmen and selling agencies covering the entire United States. Contract has been closed with the New York Gift Exchange, granting them representation for the New England states and New York trade. The Gift Crafters have secured the services of Ian Craig of Glasgow, Scotland, who has undertaken the reorganization of the Tujunga shop.

Buys Bungalow Court Site

That Owensmouth is becoming more cityfied is proven by the fact that a bungalow court of artistic design will soon grace its landscape. Fred Bickling of Phoenix, Ariz., has purchased the corner of Remmitt and Sycamore, and will erect thereon a bungalow court in four-room units.

High School Girl Hurt

After alighting from the school stage in Tujunga Miss Pauline Pinch, a student of Glendale Union high school, was struck by a passing car and narrowly escaped serious injury. The driver of the car carried Miss Pinch to Dr. Smith's office, where it was found her injuries were superficial.

Goes East for Milch Cows

W. C. Simons, vice president of the Burbank Dairy Cattle company, which supplies Burbank with milk from about fifty cows, left last week for Wisconsin, where he goes after four carloads of purebred Guernsey and Holstein cows.

Frank Karr Learns of City Succeeding With Motor Busses

Frank Karr of the Pacific Electric was informed this morning by Mayor Spencer Robinson that Bay City, Mich., a town of 70,000 was getting along very nicely with motor busses since the street car company decided to tear up its tracks.

"They aren't facing financial ruin, either," said the Mayor in contradiction of the attorney's statement here the other day.

City Manager W. H. Reeves also announced that the crossing over the Pacific Electric at Brand boulevard and Gardena avenue is now ready for use.

The Auto Club will soon have signs posted directing traffic coming in on Glendale boulevard to the right hand (east) side of the road. This will relieve traffic congestion at San Fernando and Brand.

Probably nobody ever bought an automobile who in the first three months afterward did not wish he had bought some other kind.

Short Cuts to Wealth

Far too many people want diamonds, decollete gowns, tailored suits and silk shirts without first being willing to use alarm clocks, aprons, overalls and flannel shirts.

There is too much envy of wealth and too little willingness to work for it.

Those who spend freely usually end chained to their jobs. Those who regularly put money away in the bank win final freedom.

Nash Dealers Plan for Active Season, Says E. B. Sutton

Eighty-one Nash passenger cars were sold at retail at the Chicago automobile show this year as against a total of forty-nine cars last year. Similarly large sales increases have been reported by Nash distributors at points where shows already have been held and, inasmuch as the shows always have been regarded by the automobile industry as a barometer of forthcoming business, Nash dealers in most sections of the country are planning for a very active season.

Of the eighty-one cars sold at the Chicago show, sixty-six of them were what are described in the trade as "clean deals," that is, transactions in which no car was taken in trade. E. B. Sutton of the Glendale Nash Sales has received the following report:

"The position Nash occupies in the automobile industry is decidedly healthy," said C. B. Voorhis, vice president and general sales manager of the Nash Motors company. "The Nash Motors company went into the shows this year with a line of cars at prices reduced to rock bottom. Thus, while we are deeply appreciative of the public response, I cannot say we are greatly surprised at the large number of show orders taken. The spring selling season is just at hand, and Nash dealers in most sections of the country are ordering cars for early delivery and report they are making plans for an unusually busy season."

ROMA CREW KILLED 'SAILOR-MADE MAN' WITHOUT CHANCE TO ESCAPE AND 'MORALS' ON GLENDALE BILL

Searching Investigation to Be Instituted by Government in Great Air Tragedy

In the first great explosion that followed the crash. The handful who escaped either dove from the cabins just before the crash or else landed in deep gulley that criss-cross the field on which the Roma fell. These gulleys provided protection from the blast for a few.

Tribute to Victims
The bodies of the dead, most of them charred beyond hope of recognition, lay in a tiny morgue at Newport News. Four great army and navy bases, touching on Hampton Roads meanwhile paid honored tribute to the air victims.

The three investigations into the crash are being conducted by Major General Patrick, chief of the army air service, who came from Washington by airplane; by Lt. Col. Arthur G. Fisher, acting commandant at the flying field who ordered the Roma "up" on its last flight, and by Major E. L. Kennedy, summary court officer, who is the army "coroner."

Major Kennedy announced today he would swear in a jury and hold an inquest over the bodies either late today or tomorrow. He will determine responsibility for the accident for the military authorities.

Crash Ends Test Flight

The crash, which occurred within the army base grounds here, terminated the result of what was to have been a test flight of the Roma under power of new Liberty motors. The airship, after rising above its hangar navy bases, touching on Hampton Roads in a long, sweeping circle. While still above the bay the ship developed "head trouble," according to survivors and observers. She nosed downward, settling slowly at first, but in a few minutes driving earthward at an angle of 45 degrees with increasing speed.

The big engines were silenced and the bag floated. It grazed electric overhead wires, running along a camp roadway, and crashed into the midst of piles of army junk. A terrific blast of flame followed with an ear-deafening roar. Calm observers declared the flames leaped 800 feet in the air. The whole ship then burst into flames. For an hour, minor explosions occurred as a few tanks of gasoline or hydrogen blew up.

Army firemen and men from the naval and army bases on the Hampton Roads side of the bay rushed to rescue the imprisoned airmen. They were unable to effect any rescues for an hour as the flames prevented approach.

Condolence Comes From Great Britain

LONDON, Feb. 22.—The British air ministry today sent a telegram of condolence to the American government for the loss of the army dirigible Roma, with the death of thirty-four men.

London newspapers made a big display of the American air disaster story, forecasting the report of the aeronautical research committee on the ZR-2 disaster in this country.

As pointed out by the International News Service a week ago, the committee report will say the ZR-2 disaster might have been averted if there had been more preliminary experiments.

Controls Failed to Function, Claim

LANGLEY FIELD, Va., Feb. 22.—The official army explanation today blamed the crash of the semi-rigid dirigible Roma on the failure of "controls to function."

Lieutenant Colonel Arthur G. Fisher, acting commander of the air base, made the following announcement:

"The cause of the crash of the Roma was due to failure of the controls to function. The trouble developed at an altitude of 600 feet, and pilots of the ship were unable to prevent its descent. The bag caught fire, following an explosion caused by contact with a 2500-volt transmission line. The large number of casualties were due to the explosion and resultant fire. Otherwise a much larger number would have escaped serious injury."

Dixon Sash and Door Factory Branch Here

The Dixon Sash and Door company of Pasadena has opened a branch at 205 East Broadway in charge of F. E. Hoyt of 314 West Acacia avenue, who has covered this territory for the last year.

"This concern is one of the oldest and largest on the coast," says Mr. Hoyt. "It has furnished sash, doors and plate glass for a great many homes and business buildings in Glendale. The company feels that the opening of a local branch here will be a big benefit to contractors of Glendale."

A woman's intuition tells her a lot of things, but never that she is getting fat.

Flattery turns head; advice turns noses.

Lloyd's Latest Comedy; Also Taylor's Last Feature,
Banner Attractions

Two great features at the Glendale Theatre now!

Harold Lloyd is said to be a Grand Gob of Joy in "A Sailor-Made Man," his new feature comedy coming in four reels.

Introduced as a gilded youth bored by his own society, he becomes one of Uncle Sam's sons and wears a middy, floppy trousers and a peanut hat. For the first time he learns the meaning of discipline and rules.

The U. S. S. Frederick was used for the battleship scenes, and it is there that much of the action and the funny stunts take place.

But, when they land at Kairpurahandanna and he meets again his sweetheart, and she is kidnapped by a bold and wicked Maharajah,—oh, boy, but things get lively!

Taylor's Last Picture, Also
May McAvoy also will be seen in one of her Realart starring pictures, "Morals."

This picture, which was the last directed by the late William D. Taylor, is a screen version adapted by Julia Crawford Ivers from the famous novel, "The Morals of Marcus Ordeyne," by William J. Locke. Miss McAvoy has the role of an English girl reared in a Turkish harem, and then suddenly transplanted to England when she is eighteen.

90 Girls and Their Fathers Attend Club

Full of pep? You'd say so if you had seen them. Last evening was the Father and Daughter banquet of the Christian Circle club which was attended by ninety fathers and their daughters. The usually delicious supper was served by the women of the First Methodist church—most of them mothers who chaperoned the lively crowd.

Following the repast Miss Nell Leggett, the president, gave a short talk in which she outlined the growth of the circle while Miss Segret Belg made welcome the fathers. Mr. Harrison responded, after which followed roll call and the regular Bible lesson taught by Miss Maud Soper.

Hear 'After the Rain' If You're Feelin' Blue

"After the Rain" is an appropriate new Columbia "hit" just received at the Kenny Music Shop, 203 North Brand boulevard. This fox-trot is played by Ray Miller and his Black and White Melody Orchestra. The other side of the record is occupied by "Broken Toy" played by The Happy Six.

Another record which W. A. Kenny considers worthy of comment is "Down the Old Church Aisle" from the "Follies of 1921" played by Ted Lewis and his jazz band. "Marie" is on the other side. Not the aisle, we hope!

BENEFIT TOMORROW NIGHT

The members of the Acacia Street Mothers' Club, Parent-Teachers' association, of which Mrs. William Alexander is president, have charge of the entertainment to be given at the high school auditorium tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of raising money to be used for purchasing new office furniture for the school. The entertainment will include vaudeville acts and a play, "The Lion and the Mouse."

Prominent Architect Buys in Broadway Heights

Mr. Murry, a prominent L. A. architect, purchased a high and slightly lot in Broadway Heights, and will start work on a beautiful, English type home for himself within a few weeks.

Work is already started on the five store building at the corner of Ellis avenue and Broadway, and the stores are to be ready for occupancy in about 60 days. The plans show this to be a beautiful modern business block.

The owners of Broadway Heights should be congratulated for their success in securing high-class improvements for their tract. It will be well to watch Broadway Heights: it is coming to the front. Every lot is restricted.—Adv.
